ABOUT ME

“I’m a software enthusiast in frontend languages constantly wanting to learn more. I have always been a fan of programming but just recently decided to dive into it professionally. My english skills are advanced, both in talking and writing. I have no corporative experience in development, just as a freelancer, such as making websites for my family business. I look forward to be part of a challenging team and improve my programming and team skills.

EDUCATION

2010-2015 CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY OF SALTA

Finish up to fourth year of law school, currently suspended.

2018-ACTUALLY

SELF TAUGHT AT UDEMY AND OTHERS

I'm a self taught english speaker and frontend developer. I have been familiarized with english since i was a little kid, always googling something about a game, or about how to fix some problem I ran into with the software i currently had. Recently I've decided to change careers and dive deep into programming, mostly because many of my friends are pursuing the same objectives and they're encouraged me to learn. I have made several courses on Udemy, I first start with The Web Development Bootcamp by Colt Steele and then Angular The Complete Guide by Maximilian Schwarzmüller, I am currently finishing many others.

EXPERIENCE

2015-2017 PUBLIC WORKS MINISTRY OF CATAMARCA

Duties at human resources, editing and managing employees files.

2017-2018 FREELANCER AT FRONTEND DEVELOPMENT

I begin developing websites on my own with the knowledge i have acquired, currently i support 2 of them, one for my sisters legal studio, and one for the ministry where i used to work at.
